

Modernize and Enhance IBM i® Query, Reporting, & Analytics with a Subscription to NGS-IQ™

NGS-IQ is a popular, modern query, report writing, Web reporting, and analytics solution optimized for IBM i customers. The software enables a wide range of users with different skills and job duties to extract, aggregate, visualize, analyze, and share critical information without programming.

The NGS-IQ subscription plan includes NGS-IQ's Microsoft 365, Windows and Web integration features, IBM i-based administration and security, education, technical support, and software maintenance.

The software enables users to output queries to:

- Microsoft 365 (Excel, Access, Word)
- Adobe® PDF and popular Web browsers
- HTML, CSV TXT, Db2, XML, print

Email and FTP features are built in to simplify report distribution and secure data access.

Many companies treat software subscription fees as an operating expense rather than as a capital expense, thereby simplifying your approval process.

A multi-year commitment isn't required. You may add NGS-IQ users and modules anytime. Future year fees may change, depending on business, product, and economic factors.

NGS-IQ Subscription

Annual subscription includes the following education and support:

- Introductory NGS-IQ Capabilities Webcast
- Introductory hands-on overview session (approximately two hours)
- Online, private tutoring sessions designed for Windows Query developers, Excel users, business analysts, and Web/mobile report designers
- Access to On Demand Video Library
- Software maintenance (toll-free and online incident reporting plus product updates)

Offer limited to companies that have never licensed NGS-IQ. Subscription fee is based on your NGS-IQ modules and number of users. Please ask your NGS representative for more details, and then request a free trial to begin your evaluation.